

This is not an exhaustive listing of subject areas and course opportunities at a particular host institution. We recommend you check each host university's study abroad course page to see what is available to you as it changes year to year. In addition, refer to the UCEAP course catalog to see which courses UC students have taken in the past. Keep in mind that there may be courses that cover a particular subject but are based in a different department (e.g. Women's Studies courses in Sociology).

UK second-year courses are usually considered "equivalent" to the junior year at a US university. This is important as some host universities have restrictions regarding the level of courses available to study abroad students.

- There are no major restrictions at any of the Scottish Universities other than those highlighted below. If you are interested in taking "Honours" level courses, you may be required to have at least 2 years of study in a specific subject area. Please check with the partner institution you are applying to for further details.
- Most law courses at UK host universities are year-long courses only. If you are a semester student and you want to take law courses, you can do so at the University of Manchester, and on a case-by-case basis at the University of Kent.

Below is an overview of subject areas available at each host institution. This list may change as host university policies change. The information in the overview table is still subject to the restrictions found later in this guide. Therefore, we strongly recommend you review subject offerings for each university in conjunction with the restrictions for that university.

The University of Edinburgh (Fall, Spring, Year-Long)

4th Year Science subjects are usually NOT available to UCEAP Students. Requests are reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Unique Opportunities

Art Majors have the unique opportunity of taking a semester-length studio-based programme with Edinburgh College of Art in Painting, Sculpture, Intermedia, or Photography (only available to art majors).

Studio Art majors would still apply to the ECA with the regular Edinburgh application. These students are enrolled in the one 24-quarter-unit Studio Practice course only.

The Edinburgh College of Art is making 8-quarter-unit courses available to non-Art majors via the College of Humanities and Social Science. These courses, however, are highly impacted and for Fall applicants enrolment cannot be guaranteed until July. Students with no art background would need to select Year 1 courses, while students with some relevant background could possibly take Year 2 courses.

Spring and Year-long students have the opportunity to participate in a one-week practical placement with Edinburgh Veterinary School (available in the Spring term only).

Courses That Tend to Be Impacted

Highland Bagpipes
Honours level* Art history
Honours level* English
Honours level* History
Honours level* Politics
Honours level* Philosophy

*All Honours level courses require extensive previous study (2 year minimum).

The University of Glasgow (Fall, Spring, Year-Long)

Two-thirds of your total units must be taken in Glasgow University departments (i.e. you are allowed to take either Bagpiping or up to two courses at the Glasgow School of Art).

Education courses are available, but if there is a classroom placement involved (e.g. as a classroom assistant), you will need a Tier 4 visa. Applications for courses that include placements are reviewed by the University of Glasgow on a case-by-case basis.

Unique Opportunities

Art Studio courses are available within Glasgow School of Art in Black & White Photography, Life Drawing, or Figurative Sculpture. These courses are open to all majors but additional fees apply. Highland Bagpipe courses are also available for an additional fee.

Scotland Internship (Fall, Spring)

You can choose to intern at one of the following organizations: Scottish Parliament, Law Society of Scotland, or United Nations House. This internship is complemented by 2 courses: Parliamentary Studies and Introduction to NGO's. Please note: Scotland Internship is not included in the Scottish Universities program and is its own separate program.
