NTU Incoming Exchange/Visiting Students
Health Exam Form Instructions

Participation in the UCEAP Taiwan Program requires the completion of both a UCEAP Health Clearance and the NTU Health Exam.

The UCEAP Health Clearance must be submitted to UCEAP prior to departure (see PDC Item 12).

The NTU Health Exam must be submitted to NTU Office of International Affairs in person at the on-site registration. You have the option of completing the NTU Health exam before or after arrival in Taiwan.

Please note that the NTU Health Exam is not covered by your UCEAP insurance. Depending on your health insurance, past students report that this requirement can be costly.

Your NTU Health Exam must be completed within three (3) months of the submission date. Otherwise, it will be considered invalid and you will have to complete it again. Fall and year students should not complete the form before August 15. Spring students should not complete the form before January 15.

For more information, refer to NTU’s website for their Health Form Instructions and Policy.

Step 1: Make a medical appointment. You may use the campus Student Health Services or a private physician.

Step 2: Take the NTU Health Exam Form and the EAP Health Clearance to your healthcare professional. A chest x-ray is required.

Step 3: Attach one (1) passport-style photograph in the indicated box.

Step 4: Submit the completed NTU Health Exam Form and medical test results to NTU on the day of registration.

Fall/Spring Students: For visa purposes, all semester term students submit the NTU Health Exam form to NTU.

Year Students: Students participating in the year program must apply for a visitor visa in the US and then switch to a resident visa after arrival in Taiwan. At that time, you will need to present a Health Certificate to local immigration. This can be done in Taiwan or at your UCEAP Health Clearance appointment.
