1) My name/passport number/date of birth on the JW202 form is incorrect and does not match my passport. What should I do?
Notify May Pothongsunun (mpothongsunun@eap.ucop.edu) immediately. The Chinese Consulate will not issue a visa if the information on the JW202 does not match your passport. A new JW202 will need to be issued by Fudan University.

2) My address/phone number on the JW202 form is incorrect. What should I do?
Minor misspellings are not a problem. You can check with May to see if a new JW202 is necessary.

3) When do I need to be at Fudan University?
The official UCEAP arrival dates are February 19-21, 2012. Students must be in Shanghai before February 22nd in order to attend both mandatory orientation sessions conducted by UCEAP and Fudan University. Those who arrive late and/or do not participate in the orientation sessions are subject to dismissal from the program.

4) When does the spring program end?
The earliest date of departure is July 7, 2012. Fudan final exams are scheduled to take place June 25-July 6. As with the UC, your last day of class and final exam dates will depend on the courses you take.

5) What type of visa do I apply for?
As a single-semester student, you will likely receive the F visa, which is valid for 6 months (180 days). You can submit a request for a double or multiple entry visa if you plan to travel outside the country during the program. However, the type of visa you receive is at the discretion of the Chinese Consulate or Embassy. Just be sure that the visa you receive will cover the duration of the program.

Do not make plans to travel outside of China if you receive a single entry visa. In the past, some students have been able to switch to a multiple entry visa/residence permit in Shanghai. Again, this will be subject to approval by Chinese officials.

6) Do I need a physical examination?
No, your UCEAP Health Clearance and Online Travel Health Certificate will suffice. The physical examination is only required for students who will be studying in China for more than six months and therefore would need to obtain the X visa and residence permit.

If you decide to apply for a residence permit after arrival, you can complete the physical exam in Shanghai.

7) Do I need to apply for a residency permit?
If you are staying for only one semester, you do not need to apply for a residency permit with the Shanghai Entry-Exit Bureau.

8) How do I arrange for housing?
You should have already received an email from the Shanghai Study Center about your housing options.

Students wishing to live off campus somewhere other than Tonghe will be responsible for making their own arrangements. Be cautious about using private “agents” to help you with housing. It is recommended that students consult with the study center before entering in any agreement.

9) How will my on campus housing fees for the Foreign Students Apartments be paid?
A reservation deposit of RMB800 per person is required when you book the room on-line. It will be deducted from the rent you have to pay after arrival. The reservation deposit will not be refunded if you cancel a reservation without first obtaining official approval from both UCEAP and Fudan.

A room deposit of RMB200 will be required upon check in. Be prepared to pay the housing fees for the entire semester during registration. You can either pay in RMB or with a credit card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Diners Club, JCB).

10) How will my off campus housing fees for the Tonghe Apartments be paid?
A room deposit of 2000 RMB will be required upon check in. Be prepared to pay the housing fees for the entire semester during check in as well. Tonghe Apartments only accepts cash payments in RMB.

11) When can I check-in to housing?
Housing is available for check-in starting on February 19, 2012. Check-out is on July 7, 2012. The front desk is open 24 hours.

12) What type of student am I? Which registration event do I attend?
You are a University Exchange, General Advanced Student. Your registration will take place on February 23, 2012.

13) What do I need for registration?
As listed on your admission notice and in the Guideline booklet, you will need to bring:
- a. Valid passport
- b. Original admission notice
- c. Original JW202 visa form
- d. Fees (e.g. insurance)
- e. 2 - 6 passport sized photos (will vary from student to student)
- f. Registration Form for Foreign Students at Fudan University

14) What do I do about tuition?
You can disregard any references to paying tuition because this is a reciprocal program. You do not pay tuition fees to Fudan University. Your tuition payments will be managed through UCEAP.

15) Do I need to purchase Fudan’s medical insurance?
Yes, Fudan University and the Chinese Ministry of Education require that all international students purchase their medical insurance. The cost is about 300 RMB per semester.

16) How do I register for courses?
All foreign students, including UC students, studying at Fudan must register for courses on the Fudan course registration website. Your Fudan student number will grant you access to the on-line course registration system. UCEAP will provide additional information about course selection after the schedule is posted.

Refer to the instructions for General Advanced Students listed in your Guideline booklet.
